

Longwarry Primary School

NEWSLETTER 28/06

Friday, September 8th.

Second last week of term! Only one week to go before the end of what has been a very long term. Should be a law against the time going so quickly.

A lot has happened and there are still a few big things coming up. Please read the Newsletter carefully.

The WOW Board – with so much great work happening and deserving of being shown off, Mrs Gay has introduced the WOW Board just outside the Office.

WOW stands for Wonderful Outstanding Work

Keep an eye on it, well worth checking out to see what the kids are up to. Will come into full swing next term.

Home Reading Program – I was asked if reading at home over the coming holidays counted. The answer is most definitely – YES, in fact we encourage you to.

The School Library – Open as usual next Thursday, 3.30 – 4.00pm.
Good fun yesterday afternoon, I'll read again next week. All welcome.

Clubs Program – Where have the past 6 weeks gone?
Many thanks to the friends of the school who so kindly gave us their time.
Many thanks to the students for the fine level of behaviour shown.

Active After-school Program – Next term will see some new ideas and activities. Application forms were sent home yesterday. I would suggest you get in early.

Outside School Hours Care – for those people who have been asking, we are still waiting to hear.

School Grounds – Anyone willing and able to put some time into the school garden, please see me.

Student Arrival Time –
Much better, keep it up please.

Walk to School Day – October 18th. - see details following

All for this week,
Peter
